Not In Others: Believe In Your Friends

By C. D. Smith

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: "I just have been brought to your attention, find out if there is any truth in it. There is, of course, only one place to get the truth, and that is from your 'friend.' Go to this friend and put all of your cards on the table—and don't believe anything anyone tells you until this friend has had the opportunity to confirm or deny."

It is a crying shame that we have to make this statement, but it is true: There are some people in this world who just don't seem to be happy unless they are stirring up some 'mischievous'... and they don't mind stretching the truth a bit to attain whatever unexplainable goal they may have.

But true friendship withstands many a test. A true friendship can endure despite disagreement and difficulty. It is not necessary that good friends always agree, never argue; to the contrary, a real friendship is one that has proved itself under trying circumstances.

Further, one should never doubt a true friend on the basis of what someone says that this friend thinks, says or does. Let us judge our own friends and determine things for ourselves. When some doubt is raised, then it is time to go to our friend and say, "I just want you to hear what someone has said to me about you." This puts the cards right on the table—where they should always be in any relationship that is to be called a friendship.

In final summation, we are not being much of a friend of ourselves if we believe what others tell us about one of our friends—without being definitely certain that our informant has nothing but our best interest at heart.

You have a teenage problem? You want to discuss, or an observation? Make a note of it in the box on the right. We will publish it in our next issue. Write to: C. D. SMITH, WEEKLY NEWSPAPER SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

State Faces Possibility Of King Sized Insurance Headache

AS EVERY HOMEOWNER or tenant knows, insurance problems can be a headache. The state, with its vast complex of property, institutions, vehicles, operations and services, might have a king-sized insurance headache. Right now, the only liability insurance the state buys is for its motor vehicles and airplanes.

Acts of the Legislature waived immunity from liability for claims arising out of accidents involving cars, trucks or planes.

The doctrine of "governmental immunity" is well established by custom and the courts. Under it, the state—and probably in most cases local units of government—is immune to liability arising out of purely governmental activity. The courts have found local units liable for accidents involving a proprietary function—that is, an activity which brings in money.

Indications are the state would be liable if an accident occurred in one of its money-making enterprises, such as the athletic events at state institutions, state fairs, even state parks under the park fee provisions in a bill which becomes effective this year.

The Attorney General and the Legislature are both concerned about just how much liability the state should face.

One chief cause for the concern is a tendency to speak out against the "liability of government immunity" while at the same time withholding precedent by failing against claimants who say the state owes them money for injuries.

Six cases brought against the state—and dismissed—in the Court of Claims this year are expected to go to the Supreme Court.

In these six and one other, the presiding Circuit Judge granted the state's motion for dismissal but said the "governmental immunity" doctrine is obsolete.

Attorney General Paul L. Adams has notified Thomas J. Whelan, (R-Grand Rapids), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, that legislation is in order to:

(1) Establish the exact limits and boundaries of the state's liability; and (2) provide for obtaining insurance on facilities and activities where it is needed.

As Adams said: "This matter deserves serious consideration at an early date by the Legislature."

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY has put out a handbook for pros and amateurs in the grand American game of politics.

Written by political scientist Joseph La Folombara, and published by the Bureau of Social and Political Research, the "Guide to Michigan Politics" is a revised edition of a pamphlet first published in 1955.

The easy-to-read book tells all from how to register to vote to how to get elected to office. It sells for $1 from the Bureau.

GOV. G. MENNEN WILLIAMS has asked state departments to estimate how much money they will need to operate during the next five years.

And he also asked them to tell how they plan to spend it. The influence of population growth, demand for increased services, and the state's long-standing operations were among the things the governor asked departments to consider in making an estimate of what they think operations will amount to in 1965.

It was a broad, general picture that the governor was after. He said growth of state programs over the past 10 years and continued population expansion and demand for services seems certain to produce new demands on state government.

Apparently he wants to provide some sort of blueprint for his successor in office.

LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY from fire jumped considerably during 1958 over the previous year.

Some 252 fires were lost and $44,222,780 worth of property damage was done although there were 4,500 fewer actual fires. The dead included 160 adults and 92 minor children.

The State Police fire marshal division said in its annual report that carelessness caused one quarter of the fires.

Figures for 1958 showed 198 deaths and almost $4 million less property damage. Lightning—which no humans control—caused just 813 of the fires.

The rest, including 2,887 fires caused by spontaneous ignition, had a human element involved. Inadequate safeguards, improper use of inflammable materials, incendiarism and children playing with fire caused most of the fires which could not be traced directly to carelessness.

June Building Permits

Building permits were issued by the City in June to Perry Akers for moving two small buildings to a location on Erie street and adding them to a single-family residence, which was to be remodeled; to Oscar Smith for the tearing down of an old shed and building a new one, 8 x 12 with a cement foundation; to the Dewey Bonars for building a garage on their property, 12 x 30 feet in size, to the Edward Sorensons for building a frame garage, 24 x 24 at 704 Elm St.; and to the Sam Sherwoods for relocating their Beaver Creek home on Erie St.

N.F.A.A. Tourney . . .

The 15th annual National Field Archers Association's tournament is now a part of history. Although the turnout of registered archers did not surpass the record set in 1958, it still was the second largest in the Association's list of meets.

Again for the most part, the bow and arrow experts were greeted with good shooting weather and again enjoyed the hospitality of the Michigan National Guard and the convenience of having exhibits, headquarters, shooting ranges, cafeterias and good places to stay all within extremely easy access.

The Grayling businessmen enjoyed a very good and brisk business with the archers which was greatly appreciated following a slow month of June in which cool weather, rain and mosquitos teamed to hold down the usual tourist business.

A very big vote of thanks from the people of Grayling should go to a hard working group of Grayling Bowhunters who were hosts for the meet and who turned in an excellent job. If you enjoyed any of the activities out at the tournament, or if a businessman, had a good run of business from the visitors, why don't you let a Grayling Bowhunter know you appreciate their work in bringing the shoot to Grayling again. They would be happy to know how you feel about it.

COUNTRY AUCTION

If Grayling is to continue to bill herself as "Archery Capital of the World", we will have to host the National Tourney at every opportunity. And when we do, it will be the Bowhunters who will be in the front line working. The Avalanche says, "A fine job, well done, Bowhunters". — R. W. S.

MILES CITY, MONT., STAR: "The National Labor Relations Board has taken the great leap forward toward giving businesses immortality."

"It happened in the case of the Bonnie Lass Knitting Mills, Inc., which had 50 employees and decided to fold up when they were organized by the Ladies Garment Workers Union."

"The Board has ruled that Bonnie Lass must pay back wages to each dismissed employee from December 15, 1958, when the mill shut down, until the employee found another and comparable job."

"If this rule had been in effect a couple of generations ago, the land might still be dotted with buggy whip factories, celluloid collar makers and outfits making bustles for milady."

CARD OF THANKS

We are super that nowhere else but in Grayling could so many people find so many ways of expressing sympathy and concern. We feel so deeply grateful but also very unworthy. A special word of thanks to the doctors, Sisters of Mercy, nurses, and all the hospital staff for excellent care during Carlyle's illness.

To June Feldhauser for the message she gave us through her beautiful music, to Reverend Puffer, the Masonic Lodge, the Order of Eastern Star, the members of Michaelson Memorial church, the Military establishment and all employees, and to all our neighbors and friends, what more can we say? We shall do our best to merit such generosity and respect.

We don't feel alone. God has been very near and real for a long time. Surely He neither gives nor takes a life without a reason. Until we knew why we'll first

His judgement and mercy. More homelike seems the vast known

Since they have entered there. To follow them were not so hard. Wherever they may face. They cannot be where God is not. On any sea or shore; What'er betides, Thy love abides. Our God for evermore. Sincere thanks to all, Mrs. Carlyle Brown and Christopher.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband, father and grandfather, Donald Griffith, who died July 19, 1939.

Nothing can ever take away the love a heart holds dear. "Those whom we love go out of sight but never out of mind. They are cherished in the hearts of those they leave behind. We mourn for him. He with better reason might mourn for us instead. There is no sorrow, sin, or wintry season for those we call the dead." Sadly missed by his wife, children and grandchildren.
